STRENGTH IN EVERY VOICE

2025 PROGRESS REPORT

DEAR SUPPORTERS,

As the MBC Alliance began a new chapter in 2025, we were deeply grateful for the energy and commitment our members brought to our shared mission of improving outcomes for people living with metastatic breast cancer.

Last year's listening sessions helped give the Alliance clearer direction and expand opportunities for patient involvement. These conversations reinforced our commitment to keep patients front and center, while recognizing we are all allies in this mission. We're especially thankful for the warm support and partnership shown to our new leadership team and Member Engagement Manager, Genna Haddad, who continues to connect one-on-one with members so we can better understand, strengthen, and amplify their work.

We continue to learn from our member nonprofits, who are leading the way in improving quality of life for people living with MBC. We are honored to serve as a hub where those who have been newly diagnosed, or are navigating a progression or day-to-day challenges, can connect with trusted knowledge and resources from across our coalition.

We also value our role of connecting MBC researchers with experienced patient advocates who contribute through surveys, advisory roles and other opportunities that help advance the field. Their willingness to share time, experience, and insight is an irreplaceable gift to this community.

Looking at all we have achieved together this year, it is clear this work is more vital than ever. With research funding and social safety nets under increasing pressure, we are especially grateful to the funders and partners who make it possible for us to connect, engage, and take action as a united community.

We invite you to explore this annual report to learn more about the impact we created together, and how your support is helping drive meaningful progress for people living with MBC.

HOW WE WORK

The MBC Alliance strives to amplify our members' collective efforts through collaboration and innovation to improve the lives of people living with metastatic breast cancer. Nearly 70% of Alliance members and several key partners are involved in at least one of our working groups or committees.

STRATEGIC FOCUS AREAS

 RESEARCH	 CLINICAL TRIALS	 STANDARD OF CARE	 QUALITY OF LIFE
Advocate to prioritize critical research to improve outcomes for all MBC patients.	Advocate that clinical trials become more patient-centric by implementing patient-driven designs and procedures, removing barriers to participation, ensuring equity and diversity in recruitment, and supporting Alliance member clinical trial initiatives and materials.	Ensure that all patients—regardless of race, ethnicity, age, gender, geographical location, sexual orientation, education level or ability to pay—have equitable access to quality standard of care including an appropriate clinical trial.	Integrate quality of life services and care (i.e., palliative care, financial toxicity, shared decision making) into all treatment planning from initial diagnosis.

INTRODUCING

THE SHIRLEY MERTZ MEMORIAL TRAVEL GRANT PROGRAM

Bringing the Patient Advocate Voice to Cancer Conferences

The MBC Alliance is honored to announce its Patient Advocate Conference Scholarship (PACS) Program will return in 2026 as the Shirley Mertz Memorial Travel Grant Program. Travel grants are a significant benefit available to individual advocate members of the Alliance.

This initiative carries on Shirley's pioneering vision of putting fellow metastatic breast cancer patients in rooms where they can share their lived experiences, and effectively make change. Individual advocates who receive a travel grant through the Alliance are reimbursed for up to $1,500 to cover the costs of transportation, lodging, and registration to attend an approved scientific or MBC-related conference.

Since 2024, more than $20K annually has been awarded to help individual advocate members attend conferences around the globe, from ABC8 in Portugal to the MBC DART Symposium in Texas. This funding is instrumental in breaking down barriers—connecting pharmaceutical and biotech companies with patients willing to collaborate, and allowing researchers to hear real-world experiences from people enduring lines of treatment. It also empowers advocates to learn about new science, while connecting with colleagues to grow their network and impact.

IN MEMORIAM SHIRLEY MERTZ

(1949-2025)

Shirley Mertz, a founding member and past Chair of the MBC Alliance who passed away in July, embodied our core belief that “together we are stronger.” The Alliance owes its existence to Shirley, who helped secure funding and leadership to launch our organization in 2013. A driving force behind the creation of Metastatic Breast Cancer Awareness Day in 2009, she was named a “Champion of Change in Breast Cancer,” by the Office of President Barack Obama and a “More Than Pink Hero” by Susan G. Komen. Shirley’s passion was empowering the voices of those living with MBC, believing that by speaking out with a focused message, patients can improve outcomes.

WORKING TOGETHER

Guided by stakeholder listening sessions conducted in 2024, we worked collaboratively as a diverse and democratic coalition, while incorporating the patient voice across all activities.

GATHERING TO LEARN & ALIGN

This year, the Alliance held four all-member meetings that offered opportunities to learn from experts about new developments in the field of metastatic breast cancer; explore new programs and activities for members; and get updates on collaborative work.

Our virtual meetings in March and November featured presentations that highlighted resources to support the MBC community, including patient navigation, MBC trial search tools, and why and how to engage in estate planning. Our in-person meeting at ASCO in May featured a motivating panel discussion, "On the Brink: Mobilizing to Save MBC Research and Care," organized by patient advocate members. And our in-person meeting at SABCS in December shared a look back at our coalition's work throughout the year, what's coming in 2026, and an impactful panel discussion featuring people affected by MBC on navigating quality of life.

PLANNING FOR DEEPER CONNECTION

In 2026, our in-person meeting at ASCO will be replaced with a strategic planning summit in September in Atlanta, GA, with all members invited to participate. A steering committee has been planning this retreat to create a dedicated space for members to connect more deeply on insights gained, opportunities to align efforts, and how to best advance our strategic goals.

Members and vendors are also partnering with our internal team to conceptualize a virtual workspace that will expand opportunities for connection beyond our current all-member and committee meetings and offline member conversations. Moderated by the Alliance, the workspace will foster engagement within our community, offering a secure space to share ideas, ask questions and seek help in real time. It will also serve as an incubator for action, reducing friction in socializing new concepts and allowing members to solicit participation and pool resources for aligned efforts.

PROGRESS TOWARD STRATEGIC GOALS

The Alliance pursued a number of initiatives in 2025 that ladder up to our four strategic goals and advance our work of transforming and improving the lives of people with metastatic breast cancer.

MAKING ADVANCES FOR BREAST CANCER BRAIN METASTASIS

RESEARCH
CLINICAL TRIALS

ANALYZING RESEARCH GRANTS & NEEDS

Our Breast Cancer Brain Metastasis committee works to address research and care gaps for people living with CNS metastasis or leptomeningeal disease from breast cancer. The committee hosts a speaker series where researchers and clinicians can get feedback on their work from patient advocates. The committee also provides quarterly updates to industry members, and continues to build MBCBrainMets.org as a one-stop resource hub.

The Alliance was a key funder and partner for a 2025 survey by the ABTA Metastatic Brain Tumor Collaborative (MBTC) targeted to brain mets patients, caregivers, and physicians with the goal of informing better prognoses, treatments, and symptom management. Preliminary results were presented at the SNO/ASCO CNS Metastases Conference. The Alliance also supports MBTC's new CNS Metastasis Research Grant program, which will award $50,000 one-year project grants.

In 2023, we unveiled a database and query tool developed in collaboration with the International Cancer Research Partnership (ICRP) and the Canadian Cancer Research Alliance (CCRA) that allows for in-depth analysis of metastatic breast cancer research grants. This tool serves as a starting point to analyze ongoing funding and identify gaps, with a focus on research areas that are a high priority for people living with MBC.

In the last year, the working group assessed the research landscape with a focus on three key topics, which have been identified by Alliance members living with MBC as high priority research areas: 1.) the tumor microenvironment, 2.) brain metastasis and leptomeningeal disease, and 3.) post-partum metastatic breast cancer. The group is finalizing its analyses, with plans to submit a research poster to the ASCO 2026 annual meeting.

UPDATING THE INSIDER'S GUIDE TO MBC

The Insider's Guide to Metastatic Breast Cancer, a book written by our patient advocate member Anne Loeser, has been updated by a committee made up of patient advocates working with a science writer and Alliance leadership. The edition incorporates science and research presented at SABCs in December 2023, and at ASCO 2024, with a final review of the updates done by medical oncologist Mark Burkhard, MD, PhD, director of Holden Comprehensive Cancer Center at the University of Iowa.

Though Anne passed away in 2023, this effort continues her meticulous work of staying abreast of what's new in the MBC landscape and regularly updating the publication to include approved therapies, scientific studies, clinical trials, and management of symptoms and side effects—providing a valuable “firsthand” resource that connects those navigating an MBC diagnosis with the information that matters most. A digital download of The Insider's Guide is available at no cost on the Alliance website.

LAUNCHING REVISED ADVOCACY SLIDE DECKS

In July, the Alliance released updated versions of four slide decks that are freely available on our website for advocates to download and present at events. Offered in both PDF and PowerPoint formats, the decks are designed to increase understanding of metastatic breast cancer, treatment options, and challenges faced by caregivers and people living with MBC. Each deck comes with a “cheat sheet” with sources and additional talking points. A training video is also available that shows advocates how to customize the materials for their own presentations.

The updated content, which was overseen by a committee of patient advocates, reflect changes that have occurred in the landscape of diagnosis, treatment, research and legislative action since the resources were first released in fall 2022. This initiative empowers patients and caregivers, while elevating awareness of challenges that often receive limited attention in public discourse.

STANDARD OF CARE
QUALITY OF LIFE

A soft launch of our Dandelion Toolkit initiative took place in August, following a pre-order period announced late last year. Free toolkits are now available on our website for people diagnosed with MBC, and their caregivers, on a first-come, first-served basis. Nonprofit members may also request bulk orders at no cost to distribute to those they serve.

Created by Dr. Corrinne Ellsworth-Beaumont, founder and CEO of nonprofit Alliance member Know Your Lemons, the toolkit uses the visual metaphor of a dandelion to explain staging, pathology, subtype, and treatment options. Developed in partnership with patients, healthcare professionals and caregivers, the toolkit empowers those newly diagnosed with MBC to better understand their diagnosis, communicate with their healthcare team and family, and navigate treatment decisions. Each kit contains a conversation card, a notebook to guide learning, and a colorful "You Can Do This" sticker.

The Alliance provided input on an educational initiative launched by the Association of Cancer Care Centers™ in 2025 to equip community oncology providers with up-to-date education and information about evidence-based practices for managing HR+, HER2- metastatic breast cancer, which accounts for about 70% of breast cancers. As the treatment landscape continues to evolve, it remains a challenge for providers to stay abreast of the latest and most effective management strategies.

The new resources include a downloadable fact sheet with a checklist for managing progression, best practices for biomarker testing, lists of first- and second-line systemic therapies, and links to resources from MBC Alliance members. They also include an interactive e-course that allows providers to earn up to 1.5 CE/CME hours while learning about evidence-based treatment options, treatment selection, managing adverse events, and optimizing quality of life.

DEVELOPING VIDEO RESOURCES FOR PATIENTS

Cancer expenses can be catastrophic to patients, and the impact is even greater for those navigating a metastatic diagnosis. In 2025, the Alliance hosted a webinar series on financial toxicity, a term used to describe the economic side effects of cancer treatment. Presented by nonprofit member Triage Cancer, the series shared information to help patients and caregivers make informed decisions around legal and financial issues impacting people living with MBC. Recordings from the series are available for free viewing in our speaker series library; including sessions on understanding legal and financial navigation, choosing and using health insurance, and getting started with estate planning.

With funding from the Gilead Foundation for Advancing Metastatic Breast Cancer Supportive Care and Health Literacy, the Alliance will collaborate with nonprofit members Young Survival Coalition, Nueva Vida and Dandelion Health on two initiatives in 2026 to develop tailored educational resources, and to expand support for MBC patients and caregivers.

DEFINING OUR ROLE IN AMPLIFYING MEMBER POLICY INITIATIVES

In 2024, following an exploratory project to assess perspectives across our coalition, our membership reached a consensus that the Alliance should play a meaningful role in amplifying the policy efforts of its members. While the Alliance does not engage directly in policy or lobbying, the current landscape for research funding and social safety nets has made this coordination more important than ever.

Over the past year, a committee has explored permissible language and activities that can be integrated into the Alliance's work without triggering the operational changes associated with lobbying. In December, the Alliance launched a public-facing web page that connects the larger MBC community with members leading grassroots and policy advocacy efforts, and with member-developed resources and educational materials to support this work. In parallel, the Alliance has laid groundwork for a virtual workspace where members can share opportunities to align across initiatives, including policy advocacy.

DISPELLING MYTHS ABOUT MBC

On Metastatic Breast Cancer Awareness Day, the Alliance introduced its latest awareness campaign, This Is My MBC. This international mythbusting project invites people with MBC to share what they wish others understood about living with the diagnosis. Throughout 2026, stories will be collected and shared from across the country and overseas, educating readers on why MBC is not like early-stage breast cancer—from the need for lifelong treatment, to the truth behind “but you look fine.”

Additionally, the campaign will showcase videos that dispel myths about metastatic breast cancer, using the stories of real patient advocate members sharing their experiences. These videos and submitted stories will be shared on social media, including through paid ads, to reach a larger audience with education and awareness. Regular emails will also be shared with those who participate in or sign up to follow the campaign, sharing key content as it is added along with member-developed resources for navigating MBC.

TOGETHER WE ARE STRONGER

ABOUT THE METASTATIC BREAST CANCER ALLIANCE

As a collective of cancer nonprofits, pharmaceutical and biotech industry members and individual patient advocates, the Alliance serves as a national leader in collaborative action to transform and improve the lives of people living with metastatic breast cancer. We leverage the resources and knowledge of our dynamic group of trusted experts to increase awareness and education about the disease, and advocate for policy changes and increased funding for research that holds the potential to extend and enhance life – and ultimately end MBC.
